Acknowledgments

The Editor and Board of Directors of the Southern Nursery Association wish to express their sincere appreciation to Glenn Fain, Raul Cabrera, David Held, Robert Trigiano, Benedict Posadas, Sandra Reed, Cecil Pounders, James Altland, Christine Coker, Thomas Ranney, Milton Taylor, Charles Hall and Steven Carver for the fine job they did as Section Editors and Moderators. Thanks go to Marc Van Irsel for his efforts in selecting and instructing judges and Moderating the Bryson L. James Student Research Competition. Our very special thanks, to Nick Gawel and Holly Hodges who spent many hours helping the Editor organize the program, and most importantly, preparing the manuscripts for publication. Without their efforts, this year's Proceedings would not be published.

We extend our gratitude to all the researchers and nurserymen who attended the 52nd Annual SNA Research Conference and/or contributed to these Proceedings. You make this annual event a success with international recognition.

Permission to reprint articles and quotations of portions of this publication is hereby granted on condition that full credit be given to both the author(s) and the publication, Proceedings of the SNA Research Conference, along with the date of the publication.

Using Research Data Safely And Effectively

Good research is conducted under an exact set of controlled conditions, varying only the specific treatments which are to be evaluated. Results from the specific treatments are directly applicable to your operations only if all the conditions in your operation are controlled the same as in the research. Unfortunately, this seldom happens. However, this does not mean that you cannot benefit from the research. What it does mean is that you should use the research information on a trial basis if your plant species, soil type, watering method, size and age of plant, climatic region, etc. is different than that described by the researcher.

What an alert grower should expect to gain from these research reports is ideas – ideas as to the best control for insects, disease, nematodes and weeds – labor saving ideas such as chemical pruning and using growth regulators to minimize maintenance. Also, ideas on water management, nutrition, alternative growing media, new plants for landscaping and guides for improving profits and marketing skills can also be found.

Should you desire additional information on any report, please contact the author.

We would like to extend an invitation to you to attend all sessions of the SNA Research Conference held in Atlanta each year in conjunction with The World's Showcase of Horticulture®.

The Bryson L. James Student Research Competition 2007 Awards

This long-standing program was renamed in August 1989, in honor of Dr. Bryson L. James, Director of Horticultural Research for the Southern Nursery Association. As Dr. James has been an active participant and leader in the annual Research Conference for more than 50 years, the award, named in his honor, is a tribute to his tireless efforts on behalf of the researchers, the association and the industry. Listed below are guidelines for the Student Competition as well as this year's winners:

1. Any student of a university or a college having researchers that participate in the Southern Nursery Association Research Conference, are not more than one (1) academic year removed from graduation and whose research was completed prior to graduation are eligible to compete.
2. Research is to be that of the presenter and a part of his/her educational studies. Contract work, unless a part of a thesis or classroom report (credit given), is not acceptable, as it may provide unlimited funding and an unfair advantage.
3. The number of student papers from a single university or college may be limited, should time restraints dictate.
4. The student must have submitted a title to the SNA Conference Editor by the deadline specified in the Call For Titles. The paper should then be submitted both to the Section Editor for the Student Competition and to the appropriate "topic" Section Editor no later than the specified deadline.
5. The paper must follow the guidelines for format and subject matter as stated in the Call For Titles for the SNA Research Conference.
6. Student and advisor should be listed as co-authors.
7. Oral presentation must be limited to seven (7) minutes. An additional three (3) minutes will be allotted for questions. A penalty of two (2) points per minute or part thereof for every minute over seven (7) minutes will be assessed.
8. Judging shall be based on preparation of the paper (50 points) and oral presentation (100 points) for a total of 150 points.
